tabled by Mr JURGENS

pursuant to Rule 47 of the Rules of Procedure on the electrification of Bardou/France

PE 84.419

The European Parliament,

- A. whereas an adequate system of electrification is fundamental to any modern economy,
 - B. whereas the energy policy was an important reason for France's attempts to make further progress in the process of European unification after the collapse of the European Defence Community,
 - C. whereas the right to freedom of movement and freedom of establishment of the citizens of the European Community is embodied in the Treaties of Rome,
 - D. whereas hill farmers require particular assistance,
 - E. noting with regret that in spite of many attempts over more than ten years now, it has not been possible to connect Bardou (commune of Mons-la-Trivalle, in the department of Hérault) to the national grid in France,
- 1. Calls upon the E.D.F. to bury its resentment towards the non-French citizens of the European Community resident in Bardou and to connect this village to the public electricity supply without asking the individuals concerned to meet even a part of the cost;
 - 2. Instructs its President to forward this resolution to the French Government with a request that it urge the E.D.F. to act as called for in this resolution.
